

ABSTRACT

An oral composition is provided which is effective for mineralization of surface enamel comprising a first part containing a partially water soluble calcium salt and a second part containing a fluoride salt and a bicarbonate salt. The oral composition can be a toothpaste and wherein the second part preferably contains sufficient bicarbonate salt to provide a fresh, clean feeling to the oral cavity.